OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

The News,

There is a terrible panie down in Georgia among the rebels, as our telegraphic columns amply demonstrate. Sherman is marching on and the whole confederacy is mun's great expedition as follows: frantic with fear. Let, them tremble for the day of loyal wrath is upon them.

Thanksgiving Day in Janesville. If the question had been submitted to a committee of the oldest inhabitants of Janesville, whether they had ever before seen as pleasant a Thanksgiving day, so far as the weather was concerned, as last Thursday proved to be, we doubt not they | three days before for Atlanta, tearing up would have answered that they had not, It seemed as though our glorious Northern summer weather, in passing into the parrdise of the past, had found the door njar and one day had escaped and returned to bless us with its presence. Usually, Thanks. giving day is spent much more comfortably in the house than out, where, surrounded by friends and relatives before a glowing fire, we await the happy hour when the old-fashioned, time-honored Thanksgiving dinner is served. But Thursday was a day to be remembered for its pleasantness independent of all other associations, and it was fully enjoyed by the people of the city. At the Congregational Church the Baptists, Methodists, Presbyterians and houses, and everything liable to be trans-Congregationalists held a union service, where Rev. Mr. Manwell of the Methodist Church, preached an interesting sermon appropriate to the occasion, some portions of which were warmly applauded by the audience. The Episcopalians and Unitarians also had services in their respective places of worship. Business throughout the day was almost entirely suspended, and the day was fittingly remembered and observed by all. The mild, bracing air, and the clear sunlight entired large numbers of the entire programme to be carried out by persons to ride out, and every carriage and Gen. Sherman, neither do I know positivevehicle whose wheels would revolve at all. Iy his destination. The latter may dewas pressed into service for one more and merry, jingling bells. In the eyening, as through the day, there was many a happy home made still more glad by the presence of kind friends whose gathering together was to be preserved in the memory as an oasis in the desert wastes of life. The drowning of the boy Spence, men-

MARNADUKE CAPTURED BY A Boy. -- It is stated that the robel General Marmaduke was captured by a little boy belonging to one of the Kansas regiments. He at first refused to surrender to un "inferior officer," but was immediately persuaded to do so. The lad brought him to Gen. Curtis' headquarters, where he introduced himself much to the surprise of all, but especially of the boy hero. General Curtisasked the boy how long he had to serve before his term of onlistment would expire. The reply was "eight months." The General immediately wrote a furlough for that time and presented him with the horse, revol-

JANESVILLE, WIS., SATURDAY, NOV. 26, 1864. VOLUME 8.

Sherman's March.

A correspondent of the New York Times writes from Nashville under date of Nov. 16th, in which he speaks of Sher-

The expedition commenced its march upon the evening of the 12th inst., with a division of Kilpatrick's cayalry, under Gen. McCook, and the 20th Corps, Gen. Slocum, in advance. This advance was to proceed slowly in the direction of Macon, and to be followed by the 24th Corps, Gen. Jeff. C. Davis. The Army of the Tennessee, Gen. Howard, composed of the 15th Corps, Gen. Logan, 16th, Gen. Smith, and 17th, Gen. Frank Bluir, left Kingston the railroad as it went along. On the 11th the Etowah bridge was destroyed, and from thence to the Chattahouchee the work of destruction was complete. Almost the entire railroad track was removed, and the rails twisted up and otherwise inured; all the important storehouses and depots were burned, and the culverts and musonery blown up. The immense structure which spans the Chattahoochee was burned, and the foundations blown up. Everything was in readiness at Atlanta to make good the destruction of that town ipon the arrival of the Army of the Tennessee, and, in all probability, the Gate City, so long the fountain head of the South for the production of munitions of war, was sent reeling to rain on the 14th The torch was to be applied to all public buildings, manufactories, and storeferred to rebel use, which would not burn

If Beauregard attempts to intercept Sherman, or follow him, he must send his entire army, with all its paraphernalia, by then march from Meridian to Montgomery, a distance of about two hundred miles, with only a short piece of railroad and no means of transportation, running from Uniontown to Selma. By the time Beauregard reaches Macon, Sherman would be out of his reach. Thomas is watching G. P. T. B., and is being heavily re-inforced (with new troops). In a week from now Thomas army will have 55,000 men, beside A. J. Smith, who is co-operating with an army of observation. (From the Indianapolis Journal, Nov. 22d.) A gentleman who arrived here yesterday morning direct from Chattanooga, reports that information had reached that place previous to their departure that the column of Sherman's cavalry which had moved in the direction of Macon had reached that place on the evening of the 15th inst. and had surrounded the city when the courier left. The other column of cavalry was pushing ahead on the direct route to Augusta, at which place we will doubtless hear from them at an early day! It is expected that both columns will form a junction on the Macon, Augusta and Savannah Railroads, one hundred and five miles east of Macon, and fifty miles south of Augusta. They will then be on the direct route to Savannah and Beaufort. Both Macon and Augusta are extensive manufacturing cities, and Jest. Davis in a recent speech declared that the latter place supplied all the powder used by the robel

FROM THE SOUTH,

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—In the rebel House of Representatives last Monday, Mr. Poote made another display of his belicose qualities, and called upon any member who objected to anything he had previously said, to send him a note to which he would not fail to give attention. NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The Richmond Enquirer of the 23d, says that Sherman is marching into the heart of Georgia. As yet his movements have met with little resistance, a fact explained by the necessity for drawing him as far as possible from the only point he could look for succor. It is not improbable he may capture the capital of the State and perhaps move thence to Savannah or Augusta with an ultimate eye on Charleston. It was rumored yesterday that he had Milledgeville already and though not officially confirmed, it is not unlikely. In case of the occupation of Milledgeville, Savannah and Charleston will be evidently the objective points. A combination is in progress to foil his purpose. We may expect to hear some definite account of him in a few days.

The News.

There is a terrible panic down in Georgia among the rebels, as our telegraphic columns amply demonstrate. Sherman is marching on and the whole confederacy is frantic with fear. Let them tromble for the day of loyal wrath is upon them.

Thanksgiving Day in Janesville. If the question had been submitted to a committee of the oldest inhabitants of Janesville, whether they had ever before seen as pleasant a Thanksgiving day, so far as the weather was concerned, as last Thursday proved to be, we doubt not they would have answered that they had not. It seemed as though our glorious Northern summer weather, in passing into the parrdise of the past, had found the door mar and one day had escaped and returned to and the rails twisted up and otherwise in-bless us with its presence. Usually, Thanks. giving day is spent much more comfortably in the house than out, where, surrounded by friends and relatives before a glowing fire, we await the happy hour when the old-fashioned, time-honored Thanksgiving dinner is served. But Thursday was a day to be remembered for its pleasantness independent of all other associations, and it was fully enjoyed by the people of the city. At the Congregational Church the Baptists, Methodists, Presbyterians and Congregationalists held a union service, where Rev. Mr. Manwell of the Methodist Church, preached an interesting sermon appropriate to the occasion, some porcions of which were warmly applauded by the audience. The Episcopalians and Unitarians also had services in their respective places of worship. Business throughout the day was almost entirely suspended, and the day was fittingly remembered and observed by all. The mild, bracing air, and the olear sunlight entired large numbers of persons to ride out, and every carriage and vehicle whose wheels would revolve at all, was pressed into service for one more jauns before being set aside for the sleigh and merry, jingling bells. In the eyening, as through the day, there was many a happy home made still more glad by the presence of kind friends whose gathering together was to be preserved in the memory as an oasis in the desert wastes of life. The drawning of the boy Spence, mentioned in yesterday's paper, was the only accident that occurred to mar the happiness

Death of Prof. Turner.

The death of Prof. Henry J. Turner, Principal of the French and English Boarding School which occurred on Thursday morning, has east a gloom over the oify. He expired after a brief illness of three weeks, at the age of fifty-six. A writer in the Madison Journal of yesterday, thus speaks of him :

"He was born in New York but educated in France. He followed the sea for master of a vessel, had traveled extensive-ly and was possessed of a large amount of Chattanooga to Atlanta, 138 miles, is alvaluable information.

"After leaving the sea the Professor engaged in lecturing, and was widely known in New York as a skilful and successful teacher of French and educator of youth, and he has many former pupils scattered throughout the land, who will learn with sorrow of his death. Removing to Sauk City in this State, he opened a French and English Boarding school there, which was patronized by many of our citizens. Subsequently he removed to Jamesville, where his school was increasing in popularity as it became more widely known, and was just making arrangements to: enlarge his accommodations, when death called him from his labors.

"As a teacher, particularly of French, he had few superiors. He was a warm and true friend, an ardent patriot, an accomplished Christian gentleman, and his loss will be deplored by all who knew him. Hir death was caused by a complication of diseases, inflamatory rhoumatism, erysipelas and inflamation of the lungs, producing acute suffering, which he bore with Christian fortitude. The attention of his family and of many warm friends left nothing undone to relieve his sufferings, but could not not avert their fatal result.'

THE NINTH REGIMENT .- A correspondent of the Milwaukee News, says the Ninth regiment gave I. C. Sloan twenty votes and George B. Smith four.

MARMADUKE CAPTURED BY A BOY .- It is stated that the robel General Marmaduke was captured by a little boy belonging to one of the Kansas regiments. He at first refused to surrender to an "inferior officer," but was immediately persuaded to do so. The lad brought him to Gen. Curtis' headquarters, where he introduced himself, much to the surprise of all, but especially of the boy here. General Curtis asked the boy how long he had to serve before his term of enlistment would expire. The reply was "eight months." The General immediately wrote a furlough for that time and presented him with the horse, revolvers, belt and sabre of the rebel General.

Sherman's March.

A correspondent of the New York Times writes from Nashville under date of Nov. 16th, in which he speaks of Sher-

mun's great expedition as follows: The expedition commenced its march upon the evening of the 12th inst., with a livision of Kilpatrick's cavalry, under Gen. McCook, and the 20th Corps, Gen. Slocum, in advance. This advance was to proceed slowly in the direction of Macon, and to be followed by the 24th Corps, Gen. Jeff. C. Davis. The Army of the Tennessee, Gen. Howard, composed of the 15th Corps, Gen. Logan, 16th, Gen. Smith, and 17th, Gen. Frank Blair, left Kingston three days before for Atlanta, tearing up the railroad as it went along. On the 11th the Etowah bridge was destroyed, and from thence to the Chattahoochee the work of destruction was complete. Almost the entire railroad track was removed, depots were burned, and the culverts and masonery blown up. The immense struc-ture which spans the Chattahoochee was burned, and the foundations blown up. Everything was in readiness at Atlanta to make good the destruction of that town upou the arrival of the Army of the Tennessee, and, in all probability, the Gate City, so long the fountain head of the South for the production of munitions of war, was sent reeling to rule on the 14th The torch was to be applied to all public buildings, manufactories, and storehouses, and everything liable to be transferred to rebel use, which would not burn, was to be blown up, including the rail-road buildings and other railway accompaniments in the center of the city. The Army of the Tennessee was then to resume its march, and will, no doubt, make a junction with the advance in a few days. While this work of destruction was, being performed, a detachment of men operated in like manner toward Chattaneoga, and will no doubt, burn the bridge over the Oostanaule at Resaca, and fall back and fortify near the junction of the Knoxville Branch, south of Dalton. I do not know the entire programme to be carried out by Gen. Sherman, neither do I know positive ly his destination. The latter may de-pend somewhat on circumstances. After pend somewhat on circumstances. touching at Macon, I think he will go northwest. Andersonville is only a short distance south of Macon; but, if the rebels succeed in removing our prisoners from that point, as they probably will, a visit in that direction would be of no earthly account.

As to the strength of Sherman's army it is not contraband now to state that he has 50,000 veterans with him-7,000 of whom are cavalry under the daring and dashing Kilpatrick.
Sherman has thirty days' rations for man and beast. He goes finely equipped in every particular. His scout system and courier line is so complete as to guard against the possibility even of a failure. The country through which he goes is abundantly supplied with meats and bread, and a a sandy country, traversed by but few streams. If it rains a week on a stretch, it dries or soaks down into the clay in a few hours. After arriving at Macon, he will probably go to Milled girlle, where he will divide his army, sending a part of it to Savannah, and a part to Augusta. He will fortify the latter place, and after re-ceiving supplies up the Savannah river, he will be able to move to Columbia or most totally destroyed. It will take a year to rebuild it, with no inconvenience in obtaining iron. The Georgia Railroad (a State institution, as is also the Western & Atlantic, and to which the Confederacy is indebted many millions of dollars,) running from Atlanta to Augusta, 171 miles, is destroyed from Atlanta to Covington, 41 miles. The occupation of Augusta will add to its destruction. The Macon and Westorn Railroad, running from Atlanta to Macon, 103 miles, is entirely destroyed. The Georgia Central Railroad, running from Macon to Savannah, is 191 miles, and this will no doubt receive Sherman's at tention in a few days. From Augusta to Charleston, is 137 miles. From Augusta to Columbia, S. C., it is 141 miles by rail.

powder the rebels use is made near Augueta. If Beauregard attempts to intercept Sherman, or follow him, he must send his entire army, with all its paraphernalia, by rail from Corinth to Moridian. It must hen march from Meridian to Montgomery, a distance of about two hundred miles with only a short piece of railroad and no means of transportation, running from Uniontown to Selma. By the time Beauregard reaches Macon, Sherman would be out of his reach. Thomas is watching G. P. T. B., and is being heavily re-inforced (with new troops). In a week from now Thomas' army will have 55,000 men, beside A. J. Smith, who is co-operating with an army of observation.

Mostly all the manufactories for shot, shell fixed ammunition, and cannon, are at Macon, Augusta and Columbia. Half the

(From the Indianapolis Journal, Nov. 22d.) A gentleman who arrived here yesterday morning direct from Chattanooga, reports that information had reached that place previous to their departure that the col-umn of Sherman's cavalry which had moved in the direction of Macon had reached that place on the evening of the loth inst.. and had surrounded the city when the courier left. The other column of cavalry was pushing ahead on the direct route to Augusta, at which place we will doubtless hear from them at an early day.

It is expected that both columns will form a junction on the Macon, Augusta and Savannah Railroads, one hundred and five miles east of Macon, and fifty miles south of Augusta. They will then be on the direct route to Savannah and Beaufort. Both Macon and Augusta are extensive manufacturing cities, and Joff. Davis in a recent speech declared that the latter place supplied all the powder used by the rebel Hood is completely isolated Savannah is already useless as a blockade running then Sherman, with his victorious army will be free to not as circumstances may domand. His army will be on the sea coast ready for embarkation at a moment's notice, and can be used as may be deemed the most advantageous.

FROM THE SOUTH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 .- In the rebel House of Representatives last Monday, Mr. Footo made another display of his belicose qualities, and called upon any member who objected to anything he had previously said, to send him a note to which he would not fail to give attention. Mr. Foote was subsequently arrested and required to give bail to keep the peace, on charge of being engaged to fight a duel with John Mitchel. The House in another lit of desporate patriotism revoked its previous resolution

A negro was recently hung in Carroll Co., Mississippi, for attempting to raise a company of men of his own color to fight in the Union cause.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The Richmond Enquirer of the 23d, says that Sherman is marching into the heart of Georgia. As yet his movements have met with little reistance, a fact explained by the necessity for drawing him as far as possible from the only point he could look for succor. It is not improbable he may capture the capital of the State and perhaps move thence to Savannah or Augusta with an ultimate eye on Charleston. It was ru-mored yesterday that he had Milledgoville already and though not officially confirmed, it is not unlikely. In case of the occupation of Milledgeville, Savannah and Charleston will be evidently the objective points. A combination is in progress to foil his purpose. We may expect to hear ome definite account of him in a few days.

The Dispatch of the 23d, says a body of cavalry under Wheeler, attacked Sherman,s cavalry at Gordon, on Saturday, with what result it does not know. Washington, Friday, Nov. 25 .- Desert ers who came into our lines from Richmond yesterday, said a report prevailed there that Sherman captured Mucon last Tuesday. The wires were cut between Macon and Augusta. The rebels are employing every means in their power to check Sherman's advance

ta, Sentinel of the 19th: "We have this reliable news from up the river: A gentleman who arrived on Thursday evening from Stone Mountain, reports that the Yankee column moving down the Georgia railroad divided at Decatur, half going down the Covington road, and the other the Rock Bridge road. At Stone Mountain they burned all the unoccupied houses, some two-thirds of the town, and were laying waste the country as they progressed. They march in a hol-low square, with their trains in the center.

It was with the of the institution to themselves and their sage, it is a rich reward for faithful service to posterity that the South made the effort to repudiated the idea that the colored man depresses him below the level to which nabe useless, barbarous and; unwise. This could never arrive at the highest point of atho necessity and disgrace of manual invites the Confederate Congress to conlabor. To labor was to be a slave, or, sider the expediency of beginning to abolwhat was inore significant in Southern The religious slaveholder argued that slavery was right because God had ordained it and Christ did not specifically condomn it. The sordid man argued it was right because he could make money by it, and an institution could not be very bad that brought himself and family so muchease, comfort, and a luxurious style of livbecause it kept certain persons down and put him and his associates up. So all par- the Northern people and ourselves are not, ties interested put their heads together and I in fact, after all our fighting, one homo government upon it that shall stand forever." And so we have a fierce and bloody war, not for liberty and Union, but for slavery and disunion. But there are evidences that this infer-, nal theory of government is being abandonen by the very men who precipitated this unholy war upon us. As their rickety fabric commences to totter, they begin to talk of adopting a system of defense that nothing upsets their former calculations in regard to their ability to conquer n peace for themselves, but lo, they turn we sink!" To this bright complexion has the negro question come at last in the sort, and now the question has become the and the Charlottesville Chronicle, argue in the South. But these slicets are the lesser lights and do not control public sentiment. The following article from the 'Richmond Whig, of November 10th, gives cxpression to the ruling classes of Virginla. It is candid and to the point : NECRO SOLDIERS.

1 There never has been a public question of the enrollment of negro soldiers. Although some unwise individuals have broached it in the press; the question is not at this time before the country.

The proposals made in the President's message, in so far as it is practicable and I intelligible, is to double the number of rlaves already authorized by law to be impressed for teamsters, laborers &c., and to employ them in the additional work of "pioneers and ongineer laborers." If the message had confined itself to this, and had not "invited consideration to the propriety of a radical modification in the theory of the law," there would have been but little to be said. The practical business of the employment of additional slave labor about the army would have been treated on its own merits, and neither at all agitated on the subject.

As it is, Mr. Davis has chosen to open no questions both deep and dangerous, which, if Congress do not close them up peremtorily, may gravely disquiet our people and compromise our cause. It is truly astonishing and almost incredible, that now, in the fourth year of our indepe dence, and of a terrible war waged to vindicate that independence-after breaking up the old Federal Union because we would not suffer the Washington Congress to interfero with our State institutions-the President of the Confederate States should "invite" the Richmond Congress to Jeonsider a project for emancipating slaves by the Confederate authorities, and should at the same time speak of this emancipation as'a "reward for faithful service," as a boon and a blessing, as something which would place these negroes in a better posi-tion than before. Mr. Davis thus intimates his opinion, first, that laws of Con-gress, or the nots of the Confederate Exceutive, can liberate slaves; and second. ward and a boon even to an old worn out

Many worthy Virginians have long been of opinion, it is true, that it were better for the State if slavery were abolished, and the slaves sold off to the cotton States. It is certain that, but for the stupid insolence of abolition philanthropy, such a change would actually have been made in the industrial system of Virginia. Possihly, also, hereafter, when the war shall be over, and all pretense of coercion and al removal of their slaves further south. to keep the ranks of the army filled up with white men and free citizens, who ought to need no stimulus to faithful service, and whose single and sufficient reward will be the glorious independence of their native land.

We have been accustomed to think in Among the fast accumulating proofs of this Southern country that the best friends with a discerning public than the fact that not only by constitutional principle and the robel congress at Richmond is now in State pride, but also by our own duty toour care. The sad destiny of those slaves anybody's bidding. All the world knows "liberated," has satisfied us still more full well that the root of this quarrel was clearly that common humanity required the peculiar institution of chattel slavery us to stand between our negro population as it existed in the South, and it was for and the tender mercies, which are cruel, of their fulse and perilous Northern friends. Most Southern men, too, had flattered themselves that it was a blessing to the used-up and worn-out negro, at the end of his faithful service, to have a kind master to take care of him. But now the President of hope of riveting the chains upon the slave the Confederate States opens quite another more tightly, and of securing the benefits view of the matter. According to his mesturn a negro wild. Slavery, then, in the eyes of Mr. Davis keeps the negro out of somebreak up the Union of the fathers. They thing which he has a capacity to enjoy; it could be converted into a brave and effi- ture has given him the power to attain; cient soldier, and declared the attempt to it hinders the development of his faculties for good; it forbids his pursuit of happiness. If the case be so, then slavery is was a white man's war, they said, to be originally, radically, incurably wrong and fought out for the vindication of their the- | sinful, and the sum of barbarism. This is ory of government—a theory that man what Seward and Sumner say, and what Davis says after them. They invoked the Federal Congress to discourage and discivilization unless he was freed from countenance slavery in the Territories; he ish it in the States. This will never do. The slightest eyes, "a mudsill" and an ignorant hind countenance given to these unwholesome unfit for the companionship of gentlemen. Inotions may produce worse effects than can be at once perceived. Not only our invading enemies, but those foreign nations which are watching our struggle with keen interest, will be greatly struck by the suggestion of the me-sage, and will look on cariously to see how Congress and the country will deal with it-to see whether there are any real principle in our resistance to Federal usurpation—to judge whether our zeal for State rights, ing,. The politicians liked the institution and our theory of the justice and beneficence of slavery, were nothing but a dis-honest sham all the while; and whether said, "Slavery is a rock, let us found us a geneous people-one in our principles, or want of principle-one in our political and social theories-one in our tricky ways -all slippery Yankees together.

General Butler's Wife.

(Correspondence Providence Journal.) Some eighteen or twenty years ago a young actress, a Miss Hildreth, played for several evenings at the Dorrance street theatre in Providence. I happened to see her in the tragedy of Jane Shore. Her part was a secondary one, that of the friend and confident of Edward's beautiful favorite; but her conception of the character surprised me by its originality and its impressive truthfulness. I fel to the poor dumb slave and cry, "holp, or that she had great dramatic talent, and often wondered that her name had so entirely disappeared from the stage. In the spring of 1849, while visiting a friend in rebel Congress. Davis covertly intimated Lowell, I found one morning on returnin his message that the arming of the ling from a walk a card from Mrs. Benjamslaves might become necessary as a last re- in littler, with an invitation to take tea with her the following evening. I went with my host and hostess; no other guest leading theme of discussion in the public invited. The name of Mrs. Benj. On our way A few papers, like the Mobile Tribune to the house my host, a Webster Whig, spoke of Mr. Butler none too flatteringly. as a successful lawyer, smart but unserui favor of arming the slaves as a last resort, pulous, ready to take up the worst cases, and that independence and not slavery, is and noted for always carrying his clients of paramount importance to the people of through. On entering the parlors I was surprised to find in the charming and graceful lady who received us, the dramatic friend and confident of Jane Shore, whose taler t had so impressed me at the Dorrance street theater. Mrs. Butler was a young lady of Darcot, who, facinated by the stage and conscious of dramatic power had obtained an engagement at one of the Boston theaters, and who was for about two years earnestly devoted to her pro fession, when Mr. Benjamin Butler proffered his heart and hand, and won her back to domestic life. I found that she still loved the art, and prevailed on her to read to me some of her favorite passages in Shakspeare. She read. I remember the prison scene in "Measure for Measure" with a passionate pathos that made me half regret that the smart Lowell lawyer" had won her away from Molpomene and all her tragic glooms and splendors.

THE REVOLUTION IN "EGYPT."-Johnson county, which has just given 1,000 majority for the Union ticket, in 1860 gave only forty votes for Mr. Lincoln, Mr. Douglay majority being 1,522 votes. The gain since 1860, therefore, is over 2,500. Mas-Congress nor the country would have been sac, in 1860, gave 121 votes for Lincoln, and 873 for Douglas-a Democratic majority of 752. It now gives nearly 700 Union majority—a gain of over 1,400 in four years. Pope county gives 752 Union majority, against 1,000 Democratic mojority four years ago. Wayne county in 1860 gave 1,025 Democratic majority. It now gives a little more than 200 for the Copperhends a gain of over \$00 votes in four years. Williamson, in 1860, Demoeratic by a unjority of 1,650 votes, now reduces that majority to less than 300-a gain of 1,250. These are only specimens, but they serve to show the revolution which has been going on in Southern Illinois within the past four years,—Springfield  $(\mathrm{III.})$  Journal.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION.

This is trid; a question of great importance. When we consider the lungs as a vital organ, and their close proximity to the heart the delicate structure, the important office they have to perform-in a state of any department of doubistry. disease and nicers forming upon them-that the very atmosphere we inhale contributes most essentially to increase diseased action upon them, it could not be surprising that this disease should be considered absolutely incurable. It is a well established fact that cases are now record in which Consumption has positively been cured in the confirmed and last stages, as proved by diesection of individuals who have di d of some other make dy. There cases are not two or four, but many; and we refer to every physician for the truth of this statement. This being the case, does it not prove, bejund the mere shadow of doubt, that there may be-nay, there is a cure for the disease. If one has been cured, why not another? If two, why not four? and if four, why not many?. The man that says it is incurable takes a heavy responsibility upon himself; before he can make this assertion free from folly, interest or ignorance, it is necessary that he become acqualited with every medical substance upon the face of the lowed his own strong will without fear and | globe, and their various effects upon the human system, when administered; that be understunds minute ly every method by which disease is engendered, as also the restorative process to remove such disease; that he knows the chemical character of the mis producing and supporting the disease, and that it has not in the universe of matter its counteracting agent; that he knows the composition and effect of every medicine offered as a remedy and knows, nor nom theory or prejudice, but from positive facts, that the discase nover has been, and never em be cured. Had there never been a cure recorded, in which th consumptive patient had been restored to health, then we might with some degree of reason say it has been invariably mortal; but one single cure breaks the fatal link, and not only shows the possibility of restoration, but proves that the disease can be cured. Cases are also on record where persons have fived with but one lung the other having been destroyed by the dis ease, which was prevented from further mischief by proper remedies; in fact, we can point out such cases Plumler? Say that in different parts of the country wherein the functions of respiration are performed by one lung, the other having become dried or useless.

and the question arises how and wity they are effected. and the nature of the affection. We distinguish two distinct characters of disease upon the lungs, one producing what are termed tubereles, the other open alcers. Tubercles are small round substances which no ward to his own last hour. Would a comof lime, phosphoric acid, and carbonic acid, glued torade pause to hear his last words? What gether by mucous. When they become sufficiently large they irritate the lungs, produce inflamation which terminates in small pieces, frequently covering a large portion of the mucous membrane of the lungs. Sometimes their accumulation go on for years, and the lungs become in a measure filled with them, the 'petient at the same time enjoying tob rable health, but ventually gradually sinks under it. The lungs may become discused and alcorated without any formation of tubercles in them whatever, and is the most general way in which lungs become discused. When from any cause the blood becomes impure and of an inflamatory character, that organ of the human body which is the weakest will be first attacked by the morbid matter with which the blood is charged. This not unfrequently happens to be the lungs, in consequence of he added to it his own pay. He had no, need of it, clothed and fed as he was; no the ardnous affice affated to them to perform in the ahimal tecupmy, and their constant exposure to an atmosphere upon their surface of so variable a character mother, nor wife, nor child to care for, as ours differing at least 100 degrees in temperature between summer and winter. This conclusion is inecitable; conknown; to be a better man than he had sequently blood would accumulate in the blood respels ever been. They spoiled his taste for of the lungs, distending them to a larger size, so that the lungs become partially gorged with blood. The distention of the blood vessels of the lungs would little tate them and produce cough: this britation would be followed by inflamation which soon would terminate in ulceration. Much difficulty of breathing would likewise arise from the enlargement of the lungs. This have a hand at eards. It's a month since character of Disease of the Langs is very different from tubercular affections, and requires treatment of a for different nature which we shall more particularly describe in our next letter.

Persons observing the gradual progress, of this allsaso to a state past recovery, cannot but see the importanco of resorting to the right treatment the very moment they observe a disturbance about the throat, or chest, a slight hacking or hemming on first arising in the morning, or if they have in them by transmission from the bereaved mother. GEO. PRINCE & CO'S.

In presenting the Automatic Onder, we holdly annonnee the greatest triumph in musical instruments of the age. During the past half century, the French and fermans have manufactured reed instruments with double believe, and two pedals for the feet to operate, but the want of the rescribed or FXHAUSTION BALLOWS, (which is the only believe used in our instruments,) made it impossible for them to produce the mellow, rich and musical tone for which our instruments are Another objection to this method of blowing was Anomy operion to this include a though was, that both feet being occupied, no opportunity was offered for the management of the swell. Within the past two years, instruments constructed on this European plan of "double blowers," have been, manufactured in this country, and to countract this difficulty (want of a swell) a lever has been projected from the control the instrument, to act upon the swell, and of inatro by the kert. The inconvenience and contortion necessary to effect this object, are disagreable enough to a gentleman, but to a lady the use of such an appendage is nearly impossible.

Our automatic device obvious this difficulty entirely, the simple act of blowing with more or less force giving the desired increase or decrease in the yolume of tone.

For seventeen years the superior excellence, of, our Melodeous has not been questioned, and for two, years past the enormous demand has made it impossible for us to meet our orders promptly. With our increased facilities, we feel warranted in assuring due patrons that their orders will be promptly met, and solicit a continuance of their patronage.

The Chost that will not Down. Among the fast accumulating proofs of the dilapidated and caving-in condition of of the negroes were their own masters, and repeldom, none will have more weight with a discerning public than the fact that the rebel congress at Riehmond is now in State pride, but also by our own duty to-travail with the inevitable negro, which like the ghost of Banquo, will not down at whom Yankees have stolen, or otherwise anybody's bidding. All the world knows full well that the root of this quarrel was clearly that common humanity required the peculiar institution of chattel slavery us to stand between our negro population as it existed in the South, and it was for the purpose of making it stronger and establishing it upon firmer foundations, that this terrible civil war was inaugurated by and worn-out negro, at the end of his faiththe insolent slaveholder. It was with the hope of rivoting the chains upon the slave more tightly, and of securing the bonefits of the institution to themselves and their posterity that the South made the effort to break up the Union of the fathers. They repudiated the idea that the colored man could be converted into abbrave and efficient soldier, and declared the attempt to be useless, barbarous and unwise. This ness. If the case be so, then slavery is was a white man's war, they said, to be originally, radically, incurably wrong and fought out for the vindication of their the sinful, and the sum of barbarism. This is ory of government—a theory that man what Seward and Sumner say, and what hould never environ at the history that man Davis says after them. They invoked the could never arrive at the highest point of Federal Congress to discourage and discivilization unless he was freed from countenance slavery in the Territories; he the necessity and disgrace of manual labor. To labor was to be a slave, or, sider the expediency of beginning to abolwhat was more significant in Southern eyes, "a mudsill" and an ignorant hind countenance given to these unwholesome unfit for the companionship of gentlemen. The religious slaveholder argued that can be at once perceived. Not only our slavery was right because God had ordained it and Christ did not specifically condemn it. The sordid man argued it was by the suggestion of the message, and will right because he could make money by it, and an institution could not be very bad that brought himself and family so much ease, comfort, and a luxurious style of liv- judge whether our zeal for State rights, ing. The politicians liked the institution because it kept cortain persons down and honest sham all the while; and whether but him and his associates up. So all partitle Northern people and curselves are not ties interested put their heads together and in fact, after all our fighting, one home said, "Slavery is a rock, let us found us a geneous people-one in our principles, or government upon it that shall stand forever." And so we have a fierce and bloody war, not for liberty and Union, but for slavery and disunion.

But there are evidences that this infernal theory of government is being abandonen by the very men who precipitated this unholy war upon jus. As their rickety fabric commences to totter, they begin to talk of adopting a system of defense that no only upsets their former calculations in regard to their ability to conquer n peace for themselves, but lo, they turn we sink!" To this bright complexion has the negro question come at last in the rebel Congress. Davis covertly intimated in his message that the arming of the slaves might become necessary as a last resort, and now the question has become the leading theme of discussion in the public journals of the South, and engrosses the attention of their Congress almost daily. A few papers, like the Mobile Tribune and the Charlottesville Chronicle, argue in favor of arming the slaves as a last resort, and that independence and not slavery, is of paramount importance to the people of the South. But these sheets are the lesser lights and do not control public sentiment. The following article from the Richmond Whig, of November 10th, gives expression to the ruling classes of Virginin. It is candid and to the point :

NECRO SOLDIERS. There never has been a public question of the enrollment of negro soldiers. Although some unwise individuals have broached it in the press; the question is not at this time before the country. The proposals made in the President's message, in so far as it is practicable and intelligible, is to double the number of slaves already authorized by law to be impressed for tonmsters, laborers &c., and to employ them in the additional work of "pioneers and engineer laborers." If the message had confined itself to this, and had not "invited consideration to the propriety of a radical modification in the theory of the law," there would have been but little to be said. The practical business of the employment of additional slave labor about the army would have been treated on its own merits, and neither Congress nor the country would have been at all agitated on the subject.

As it is, Mr. Davis has chosen to open up questions both deep and dangerous, which, if Congress do not close them up peremtorily, may gravely disquiet our people and compromise our cause. It is truly astonishing and almost incredible, that now, in the fourth year of our indepedence, and of a terrible war waged to:vindicate that independence—after breaking up the old Federal Union because we would not suffer the Washington Congress to interfere with our State institutions-the President of the Confederate States should "invite" the Richmond Congress to con-sider a project for emancipating slaves by the Confederate authorities, and should at the same time speak of this emancipation as a "reward for faithful service," as a boon and a blessing, as something which would place these negroes in a better posi-tion than before. Mr. Davis thus intimates his opinion, first, that laws of Congress, or the acts of the Confederate Exce utive, can liberate slaves; and second, that slavery is so dire and hideous an evil as to make escape from its horrors a reward and a boon even to an old worm; out negro at the end of a term of "faithful

Many worthy Virginians have long been of opinion, it is true, that it were better for the State if slavery were abolished, and the slaves sold off to the cotton States. It is certain that, but for the stupid insolence of abolition philanthropy, such a change would actually have been made in the industrial system of Virginia. Possi bly, also, hereafter, when the war shall be over, and all pretense of coercion and pressure shall be removed, the citizens of this State may, if they thick right for their own benefit, and not as a boon to negroes-make arrangements for the gradual removal of their slaves further south. This may one day come to be a practical question; but it is no question now, and, above all, it is no question for Mr. Davis, either now or in the future. We want him and the Confederate authorities to mind their own business; we "finvite their

to keep the ranks of the army filled up with white men and free citizens, who ought to need no stimulus to faithful serice, and whose single and sufficient reward will be the glorious independence of their native land.

We have been accustomed to think in this Southern country that the best friends that we were bound to oppose the cruel philanthorpy of Yankee statesmanship, not only by constitutional principle and whom Yankees have stolen, or otherwise "liberated," has satisfied us still more and the tender mercies, which are cruel, of their false and perilous Northern friends. Most Southernmen, too, had finttered themselves that it was a blessing to the used-up ful service, to have a kind master to take care of him. But now the President of the Confederate States opens quite another view of the matter. According to his message, it is a rich reward for faithful service to turn a negro wild. Slavery, then, in the eyes of Mr. Davis keeps the negro out of something which he has a capacity to enjoy; it depresses him below the level to which nature has given him the power to attain; it hinders the development of his faculties for good; it forbids his pursuit of happi-

ish it in the States. This will never do. The slightest notions may produce worse effects than invading enemies, but those foreign nations which are watching our struggle with keen interest, will be greatly struck look on curiously to see how Congress and the country will deal with it-to see whether there are any real principle in our resistance to Federal usurpation-to and our theory of the justice and benefic want of principle-one in our political and social theories-one in our tricky ways-all slippery Yankees together.

General Butler's Wife.

(Correspondence Providence Journal.) Some eighteen or twenty years ago young actress, a Miss Hildreth, played or several evenings at the Dorrange street theatre in Providence. I happened to see her in the tragedy of Jane Shore. Her part was a secondary one, that of the friend and confident of Edward's heantiful Tavorite; but her conception of the character surprised me by its originality and its impressive truthfulness. I felt to the poor dumb slave and cry, "help, or that she had great dramatic talent, and often wondered that her name had so entirely disappeared from the stage. In the spring of 1849, while visiting a friend in Lowell, I found one morning on return-ing from a walk a card from Mrs. Benjam-Butler, with an invitation to take teawith her the following evening. I went with my host and hostess; no other guest The name of Mrs. Benj. Butler had for me at that time no other signifi-cance than Mrs. John Smith. On our way to the house my host, a Webster Whig, spoke of Mr. Butlor none too flatteringly, as a successful lawyer, smart but unserupulous, ready to take up the worst cases, and noted for always carrying his clients through. On entering the parlors I was surprised to find in the charming and graceful lady who received us, the dramat-ic friend and confident of Jane Shore, whose talent had so impressed me at the Dorrance street theater. Mrs. Butler was , young lady of Darcot, who, facinated by the stage and conscious of dramatic power had obtained an engagement at one of the Boston theaters, and who was for about two years earnestly devoted to her pro fession, when Mr. Benjamin Butler proffored his heart and hand, and won her back to domestic life. I found that she still loved the art, and prevailed on her to read to me some of her favorite passa-ges in Shakspeare. She read. I remember the prison scene in " Measure for Measure" with a passionate pathis that made me half regret that the 'smart Lowell lawyer" had won her away from Molpomene and all her tragic looms and splenders. . . . .

The Revolution in "Ecret"-Johnson county, which has just given 1,000 mu-jority for the Union ticket, in 1860 gave only forly votes for Mr. Lincoln, Mr. Doug-las' majority being 1,522 votes. The gain since 1860, therefore, is over 2,500. Massac, in 1860, gave 121 votes for Lincoln, and 873 for Douglas—a Democratic majority of 752. It now gives nearly 700 Union majority-a gain of over 1,400 in four years. Pope county gives 752 Union majority, against 1,000 Democratic majority four years ago. Wayne county in 1800 gave 1,025 Democratic majority. It now gives a little more than 200 for the Copperhends a gain of over 800 votes in, four years. Williamson, in 1860, Demoeratic by a majority of 1,650 votes, now reduces that majority to less than 300-a gain of 1,250. These are only specimens, but they serve to show the revolution which has been going on in Southern Illinois within the past four years .- Spring-

No answer. Benson obeyed the request of the dying soldier. He delivered his last message; remitted his pay. Remembering the words, "She needs it, spoken so feelingly, he added to it his own pay. He had no, mother, nor wife, nor child to care for. Let it go to the bereaved mother. She may perhaps feel her loss somewhat the Better so, far better, than it should go in gambling or in drink. His letter closed—"Had I not been motherless from my birth, I might perhaps have been worthy to fill the place of him you mourn, to be a son to you, but I have been too abandoned. I can only offer you respeet, and contribute my poor earnings for your comfort."

He read and re-read the letters given him by the departed son : so pure, so tender, so elevated. He found them a treasure, as the son had found them. They awoke in him a desire for purity; an aspiration for better things than he had ever known; to be a better man than he had ever been. They spoiled his taste for gambling; they made him abhor vileness and enrousing.

His comrades rallied him again and "What ails you, Benson? Come, let's have a hand at eards. It's a month since

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION.

Can Consumption be Cured. BY BR. FRICE.

This is truly a question of great importance. When we consider the lungs as a vital organ, and their close roximity to the heart, the delicate structure, the piportant office they have to perform-in a state of disease and ulcors forming upon them—that the very percase diseased botton upon them, it could not be urprising that this disease should be considered ab solutefy incurable. It is a well established fact that cases are now ecord in which Consumption has positively been curin the confirmed and last stages, as proved by dissec tion of individuals who have died of some other mulady. These cases are not two or four, but nany; and ve refer to every physician for the truth of this statement. This being the case, does it not prove, beyond the mere shadow of doubt, that there may be-may there is a cure for the discuse. If one has been cured why not another ? If two, why not four? and if four man. An orphan from his birth, cast loose why not many? The man that says it is incurable upon the world to fight his way through takes a heavy responsibility upon himself; bofore h can make this assertion free from folly, laterest or ig norance, it is necessary that he become acquainted with every medical substance upon the face of the lowed his own strong will without fear and globe, and their various effects upon the human sys torn, when administered; that he understands minute-But he was a man still. Down be- ly every method by which disease is engendered, as also the restorative process to remove such disease that he knows the chemical character of the mis producing and supporting the disease, and that it has not that he knows the composition and effect tof erer medicine offered and remedy and knows, not from the ory, or projudice, but from positive facts, that the discase nover has been, and nover can be cured. Had there nover been a cure recorded, in which the consumptive patient had been restored to health; then invariably mortal; but one single cure breaks the fatal link, and not only shows the possibility of restoration, but proves that the disease can be cured. Cases he joined them, "give us a share! How are also on record where persons have lived with but much of a haul this time? Fierce enough one lung the other having been destroyed by the discase, which was prevented from further mischief by "Plunder!" repeated Benson, and his proper remedies; in fact, we can point out such cases yes fashed. "Plunder?" Say that in different parts of the country wherein the functions of respiration are performed by one lung, the other having become dried or useloss. ... Pulmonary Consumption dea disease of the lang-and the question urless how and why they are effected. the and the nature of the affection. We distinguish awo distinct characters of disease upon the lungs, one producing what are turned tubercles, the other onen informed in the sir cells of the lungs, and are composed of hime, phosphoric acid, and carbonic acid, glued- together by uncous. When they begone sufficiently largo they irritate the lungs, produce influentian which terminates in small alcere, frequently covering t large portion of the inucous membrane of the lung Sometimes their accumulation go on for years, and the angs become in a measure filled with them, the po tient at the same time onjoying tolerable shealth, ibu ventually gradually sinks under it. The lungs may ecome discused and ulcerated without any formation of tabercles in them whatever, and is the most gener I way in which lungs become diseased. When from invicause the blood becomes impure and of an inflam atory character, that organ of the human body which is the weakest will be first attacked by the morbid matter with which the bload is charged. This not mefrequently happens to be the lungs, in consequence of need of it, clothed and fed as he was, no sahimal bedoomy, and their constant exposure to an atmosphere upon their surface of so variable a characte as ours differing at least 100 degrees in temperatur every pulsation of the heart is thrown to the lungs where it comes in contact with the atmospheric at phere their united with the carbon in the blood from the lungs; the blood in the lungs is then changed from yenous to arterial blood. After this change of blood in the lungs, it is returned from the lungs, back arnin to the heart. The above illustration is sufficient to give the reader an idea of the office of the lungs; it, then, the lungs, from any cause whatever, become weak, what must processarily be the effect upon them; would not their debility render them incapable of returning the blood from them back again to the heart as fasters the licert threw it to them? This conclusion is inevitable; consequently blood would accumulate in the blood vessels of the lungs, distending them to a larger size, so that the brings become partially garged with blood. The distention of the blood vessels of the lungs would irritate them and produce cough; this irritation would be followed by inflamation which soon would terminal in decration. Much difficulty of breathing would likewise arise from the enlargement of the langs. This character of Disease of the Lungs is very different from tuborcular affections, and requires treatment of a for different nature which we shall more particularly

SCHOOL ORGANS

In presenting the Automatic Occar, we holdly au-In presenting the AUTOMATE ORGAN, we body au-nomine the greatest triumph in musical instruments of the ago. During the past half contary, the French and Germans have manufactured reed instruments; with double bellows, and two pedals for the feet to operate, but the want of the reversed or EXHABESION DELLOWS, (which is the only bellows used in our instruments) made it impossible for them, to produce the mellow, rich and musical tone for which our instruments are celebrated.

pean pian of "double blowers," have been imanufactured in this country, and to counternet this difficulty (want of a swell) a lever has been projected from the centre of the instrument, to act upon the swell, and orrestance are true super. The incomredience and contortion necessary to effect this object, are disagreeable enough to a gentleman, but to a lady the use of such an appendage is nearly impossible.

Our aurestante devices obtained this difficulty entirely, the simple act of blowing with more arrivers force giving the desired increase or decrease in the polime of tone.

For seventeen years the superior excellence, of, our Meledeous has not been questioned, and for two, years past the enormous demand has 'made it impossible for us to meet our orders promptly. With our, increased facilities, we feel warranted in 'securing our patrons that their orders will be promptly met, and solicit a continuance of their patronage.

[Translated from the French.]

After-having played on the Pinno of Messra. Knabe & Co., it is impossible not to bear testimony to their qualities, which have acquired for them the eminent reputation which they enjoy. The Pianos of their manufacture, on which I have played, are exceedingly remarkable for their qualities. The bass is powerful without harshnoss, and the upper, notes sweet, elear and harmonicusly mellow, (chrystallue,) and I do not hesitato to express in regard to these instruments my outlre satisfaction, and to declare that they are equal if not superior to the best manufactured in Europe or this country by the most colebrated makers.

S. C. WEST, WHOLESALE AND WASHINGTON, Jan. 1st, 1864. Washington, Jan. 1st, 1864.

Gentlement—Having stated it verbally to you, I have no hesitation in writing the fact, that I experienced marked benefit from your Hoodland's German Bitters. Paring a long and tesilous session of Congress, pressing and onerous duties nearly prostrated me. A kind friend suggested the use of the preparation I have manned. I took his advice, and the recult was improvement of health, renewed energy, and that particular relief I to much needed and obtained. Others may be similarly advantaged if they desire to be.

Truly your friend, THOMAS B. FLORENCE.

From John B. Withersham, Esq. firm of From John 18. Wittlersham, E.q., frm of Withersham and Hutchinson, the celebrated manufacturers of Fancy Iron Works, 259 Canal street:

I am the recipient from you of one of the greatest favors that can be conferred upon man, viz., that of the flush. For many years have I suffired from one of the most annoying and debilitating complaints that the human family can be afflicted with, Chronic blanchers. During the long time I was suffering from this dis-ease, I was attended by regular physicians, giving me but temporary relief. The cause seemed to romain until I was induced to try Hoodland's German Bitters, After the use of a few bottles of that valuable medi-

Jones of Evant.—Guillement: My mother-in-law has been so greatly benefitted by your Hoofland's Germa 1 Bitters that I concluded to try it myself. I flud it to be an invaluable tonic, and unlessitatingly recommend it to all who are suffering from dyspepsia. I have had that disease in its most obstinate form— flatulence—for many years, and your Betters has given me case when overything else had failed. Yours truly, JU JÜMES LEE. From the Hon. Jacob Broom. PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7th, 1863.

Gentlemen:—In reply to your inquiry as to the ef-ect produced by the use of Houland's tierman litters is my family, I have no hesitation in saying that it ins been highly beneficial. In one instance, a case o lyspepsia of thirteen years standing, and which has become very distressing the use of one bottle gave de-cided relief, the second effecting a cure, and the third, it seems, has confirmed the cure, for there has been no symptoms of its return for the last six years. In my individual use of it, I find it to be an unequiled onle and sincerely recommend its use to the sufferers.
Truly yours, JACOH BROOM, 1707 Spruce.

From Rev. W. D. Seigfried, Paster of the 12th Baptist Church: PHILADELPHIA, December 26th, 1663.

Messes. Jones & Evans—Gentlemen: I have recently been laboring under the distressing effects of indigestion, accompanied by a prostration of the nervous sys-tem. Numerous remedies were recommended by friends, and some of them tested but without relief. Your Hoolland's German Bitters were recommended by persons who had tried them, and whose favorable mention of the Bitters induced mealso to try them. mention of the Bitters induced mealso to try them. I must confess that I had an aversion to Patent Medicines, from the "thousand and one" quack "Bitters," whose only aim recens to be to palm off sweetened and drugged liquor upon the community, in a sly way; and the tendency of which, I fear, is to make many a confirmed drunkard. Upon learning that yours was really a medicinal preparation, I took it with happy effect. Its action not only upon the stomach, but upon the nervous system, was prompt and graffying. I feel that I have derived great and permanent benefit feel that I have derived grown the use of a few bottles.

Very respectfully yours, W. D. SERGRIED, No. 254 Shackamayon Street. From the Rev. Thos. Winter, D. D., Pastor of Roxbury Baptist Church:
Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir: I feel it due to your exect lent preparation, Hoofland's thrman litters, to add my testimony to the deserved reputation it has ob-tained. I have for years, at times, been troubled with great disorder in my head and nervous system. I was advised by a friend to try a bottle of your German Bitters. I did so, and have experienced great and ut expected relief; my health has been very materially benefitted. I confidently recommend the article where I meet with cases similar to my own, and have been assured by many of their good effects.

Sewing Machines. Wilcox gibbs,

SEWING WACHINE!

Will Stitch, Hom, Fell, Tuck, Cord, Bind, Braid, Quilt and Embroider leautifully. It will, with the finest needle and thread, run from perfect work on the finest Nainsook, over the heaviest beaver rioth and the state of the state of the state. cowhide, with no change of needle, thread or tension

Wilcox & Gibbs Sewing Machine will use coarse colton. linen, silk and living. It runs casher, faster and stiller than any other machine. It forms a flat, even and clastic seam, differing from every other stitch, each loop being freisted by means of the and drawing the twist into the youls, thus securely fastening every stitch, so that the seam will bear to be cut at frequent intervals, and in that case even, the seam is warranted Nor to Rip in wear, and under all circumstances to "sure fre the seashtub." Old worn out family garments, bosoms, pants, dresses, &c., have been submitted to Committees at Fairs where was the great est compelition, and to THIS STITCH premiums have been in arded for its surerionitt, nurability, classicity and Britty.

A Patented Device precents the possibility of the ma-chine being run in the wrong direction, or the balance wheel ever wearing or touching the dress. By another ingenious Patent improvement, The Needle Cannot be Set Wrong, Thus avoiding the great trouble of other machines. In this it is so easy that a child may set it in the dark with unerring correctness every time. NO BREAKING OF NEEDLES. The blade of the needle is less than 34 of uninch long, and is straight. It is less than half the length of other machine needles, many of which are curved, therefore more easily bent or broken—a great source of an noyance, expense and trouble. The Hemmer and Fell er can never be set wrong. Any one may adjust them in the dark. The hem may beef any width. No other hemmer or feller is like this. It turns the hem on the right or upper side, as you want it. . IT WILL NOT DROP STITCHES;

As the needle is always set right, the blade short an atraight does not albrate, like longer ones.

Wilcox & Gibbs Sewing Machine Is run by steam at 4000 stitches per minute-other machines only at 400 to 1200, with safety. They are MATHEMATICAL PRECISION, Hence each part is interchangeable, and can be readily placed in case of accident. THEY WILL NOT GET OUT OF ORDER We have known it intimately for several years. Many thousands are niready in tiso here, and so far as we know, not one in family use has ever cost a dime to re-pair, or ever been out of order at all. They will last a generation, if properly cared for. None who have used it can be persuaded to use any other.

Wilcox & Gibbs Sewing Machine Works at an instant's notice, and never stops "unac-countably." Not one operator in ten on the Wilcox & Gibbs will break a needle or drop a stitch in a year. The Wilcox & Gibbs in the hands of any one, knows no "skips," "drops," "jumps" or "misses." The roundness, evenness, durability and beauty of its stitch WERE NEVER EQUALED.

Its rapidity, absolute stillness, ease of motion, natrow ness and neatness of its Hem and Fell were never approached by any other machine. We can call in any boy or girl from the street, and with three minutes instruction they will set the needle, attach the Hemmer, or Feller, and do the work with antiatruation they will set the needer, atruct the treatmer, or Feller, and do the work with entire success. A blind girl, with the exception of threading the needle, can do the same. Many ladies owning other first-class machines, come to our office to do their time hemming and folling on the Wilcox & Ulbbs Machine. The press universally pronounce this the best family sewing machine in the world. Wo are General Agents for BARNUM'S SELF-SEWER FOR ALL SEWING MACHINES.

From the fion. Thomas R. Florence. Washington, Jan. 1st, 1864.

Continuon:—Having stated it verbally to you, I have be healtation in writing the fact, that I experienced marked benefit from your Hoofmal's German litters. During a long and teclious session of Congress, pressing and onerous duties nearly prostrated inc. A kind friend suggested the use of the proparation I have samed. I took his advice, and the result was improvement of health, renewed energy, and that particular relief I so much needed and obtained. Others may be similarly advantaged if they degree to be.

Truly your friend, THOMAS B. FLORENCE. This medicine is a simple vegetable extruct, and me on which all can rely, as it has been used in our practice for many years, and with thousands treated, then not failed in a single instance. I must be recipient from you of one of the greatest favors that can be conferred upon man, viz., that of health. For many years have I suffered from one of the most amonying and debifiteding complaints that the human family can be afflicted with. Chronic Diarchesa.

During the long time I was suffering from this disease. I was attended by regetar physicians, giving me hat temporary rable. The came seemed to remain until I was induced to try flootheads derman Bitters. After the use of a few bottles of that valuable medicine, the complaint appeared to be completely cradicated.

Finlandly December 26th, 1863.

Matril Jones & Econs—Gentlemen: I have recently been laboring moder the distressing effects of indigention, accompanied by a prestration of the nervous system. Numerous remadles were recommended by persons who had tried them, and whose favorable mention of the Bitters induced me also to try them. I must confess that I had an aversion to Putent Medicines, from the "thousand and one" quack "Bitters," whose only aim seems to be to palm of sweetened and drugged inpor upon the community, in a sly way; and the tendency of which. I fear, is to make many a confirmed drushard. Upon learning that yours was really a medicinal preparation, I took it with happy effect. Its action not only upon the stomach, but upon the norwans system, was prompt and gratifying. I feel that I have derived great and permanent benefit from the use of a few bottles.

Vory respectfully yours. W. D. SEIGRIED, No. 264 Shackamaxon Street.
